

Feedback for Project Number 28

Instructions

Use the program below (beginning line 13) to figure out who you will be critiquing. You will critique two of your colleagues' work and provide feedback for them to produce their best work. Remember this is to help them out so do not be mean, but also do not hold back. Be sure to highlight areas of success as equally as areas of failure. Use the template below the code to provide them this feedback. You can find the project links here

Be sure to change the name of the project in the title above and in the document title.

This is the project number you are critiquing and should be included in the output file so that the document name reads 'Critique_of_Project##.docx'. Once you are finished, e-mail me both documents (one document per critique) and I will upload them to the 'Peer_Reviewed_Work' folder so that your peers can view them. Do not e-mail me the .Rmd file. These reviews are due by Friday, March 26th at 5:30pm CST. For ease you can use this markdown file to fill out your responses and knit which will produce a word document for you.

Other encouragements/critiques you would like to provide to your colleague in order for them to have a more refined project.

I enjoyed how interested you were in the project and how that positively affected your presentation. I would suggest listening to the context of some of the words from the song to better understand the results of your analysis, specifically with the word beat, which could relate to the beat of the song and not the physical harm to someone else.
